Art Unit: 3618

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species I – front and rear retaining system proximal a front end of a boot
(Figures 1-4)

Species II – front retaining system proximal a front end of a boot and a rear retaining system proximal a rear end of a boot (Figures 5-7)

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, it cannot be clearly determined if claim 1 is generic. This is due to the claim 1 limitation “a linkage element movable with respect to the sports article between a low and high position”. While paragraphs 0018 and 0033 of the specification set forth that the linkage element, or member for Species II, best understood to be reference number 7A of Figures 5-7, is movable, though it does not explain how it moves, paragraph 0018 and the remainder of the disclosure does not appear to clearly teach whether the linkage element, or member for Species I, best understood to be reference number 14, is movable. From examination of Figure 1, Linkage element 14 appears to be fixed to a sports article, best understood to be reference number 12. However, claim 16, which is dependant upon claim 1, clearly “reads on” Species I, which implies the linkage element 14 of Species I is movable in an unknown manner.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

2. A telephone call is normally made prior to sending-out a written election requirement. However, per Section 812.01 of the MPEP, a telephone call is not required if the species election is considered complex, as is the case for this Instant Application, mainly due to the fact that it cannot be clearly determined from the disclosure whether claim 1 is, or is not generic.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
